Summary

Old St Joseph's Cemetery -A Dahlin/ Spaeth Family Perspective

Swedish immigrant Carl Reinhold Dahlin and American -born Grace C. Spaeth were married in Syracuse NY April 4 ,1921. In 1925 they moved into a brand- new home at 146 Culbert St.[see 1925 photo below].The crucifix on the cover page could be seen from the back yard. St. Joseph's cemetery, opened in 1859 and had over 6000 burials that contained remains of my mother, Grace [Spaeth] Dahlin's sister, grandparents, five of her father's siblings and direct relatives from the Markert, Muhhauser and Schmuckmeier families. In 1965-1966, individual remains were disinterred [dug-up and removed] and reburied with dignity at Syracuse's Assumption cemetery.

This 47-page document includes photos, commentary and genealogical records about the Spaeth family and direct relatives. Further, detailed information about the cemetery and the reinternment process is provided.

Mary "Pat" Markert 1913-2008 Was a relative of my grandmother Matilda [Markert] Spaeth. Pat spent countless hours documenting St. Joseph's burial records., These burial records and her cemetery history are currently on file at the Onondaga County Library Local History/Genealogy Center. In 2003, she gave me copies of Markert Family Trees that are part of this document. She also gave me some of her original 3X5 inch index cards used for her cemetery effort. Reduced copies of these cards show up in this text. Her obituary and a brief biography are on Page 17

Francis "Dick" Barr 1935-2019 Spent countless hours transcribing Assumption Church 1844-1900 Marriages and 1844 -1870 Baptisms. His work was published by the Central New York Genealogy Society in 2006 and 2007. Dick also provided me with digital copies of these files that I turned over to Assumption church and the main library. Excerpts from his records show up many times in this document. His obituary is on Page 34.

Trisha [Rathbun] Di Bella 1953 -2011 Her grandmother, Bernice "Bunnie" [Spaeth] Rathbun was my mother's younger sister. Trisha's 283-page work "Spaeth Family History 1852-2005" is on file at the Onondaga Public Library and was a source for photos and other family information used. Her funeral card is on Page 34.

Old St. Joseph's Cemetery-- Family Memories and Perspectives

Overview : St Joseph's Cemetery long gone as a Syracuse, NY landmark, remains a sad testimony to the City's history. It was established in 1859 by the German parish of Assumption Church on the hillside of Pond and First North Street as a sacred burial ground. Early "Northside" immigrants that included both German and Irish Roman Catholics took great pride in this cemetery. Most important, often with limited finances, they paid for perpetual care of their departed loved-ones. In short, these proud and highly religious folks understood that family gravesites and tombstones would be maintained for perpetuity. The last burial was on February 25, 1953.

Unfortunately, by the early 1960's the cemetery was overgrown with brush and weeds intermingled with toppled tombstones. Apparently, City planners and church officials at the time agreed that this eyesore and neighborhood hazard needed to be removed. The result supported by genealogist Pat Markert is that during 1965-1966 individual remains were disinterred with all but a few moved to a new site at Assumption Cemetery. According to the field notes of Herbert N. Lozzot who had the primary responsibility, or contract, 6567 graves were reinterred. This included approximately 180 graves and headstones, paid for family members that were moved to the traditional Assumption Cemetery complex.

One can only imagine the despair of those old German and Irish immigrants if they knew that their family members would be later dug up and buried in a common grave. Further, their highly-respected tombstones would be used for landfill.

To underscore the reburial options at the time it is worth retelling the comments by my mother's brother George Spaeth. Per my recollections, my Uncle George was given the opportunity to have family remains reburied at Assumption Cemetery for $400 each. I do not know if that included moving the tombstone. However, recognizing what $400 meant in 1960 dollars, I remember how furious he was with this option particularly when the family paid for perpetual care. Consequently, my Mother's sister, grandparents, great grandfather and four siblings of her father, Frank A Spaeth, are now buried in this consecrated site.

To respond to my Uncles dismay, it is important to understand the economic dilemma all the Syracuse area Catholic churches were having at that time. That is, parishioners were flocking to the suburbs taking away crucial financial resources. Assumption had additional considerations. The cemetery was a financial and social liability and they had an opportunity to sell the property thereby obtaining an important new revenue. Further, one must underscore that this was not unique. USA cities during and prior to that time period did the same.

The following narrative is from the viewpoint of the Carl and Grace [Spaeth] Dahlin family that lived next to the cemetery. It entails photos and commentary of family members buried in the cemetery that include the Spaeth's plus relatives from the Markert, Muhlhauser and Schmuckmeier families. Two overlay maps showing the old cemetery as it relates to the present along with reburial history are also included. Further, photos of the existing reburial site at the Syracuse NY Assumption Cemetery and the certified reburial survey for this effort are provided. Finally, pertinent records and family trees are included in an Appendix.

My older brother Dick Dahlin was an amateur photographer. He had several decent cameras and his own darkroom at our family home. The attached photo is of the old Cross that sat on the hilltop of the cemetery. This photo was taken by my brother about 1939. In my biased viewpoint, it shows pretty decent artistic photography for a teenager. From my thinking, it serves as a metaphor for the old cemetery. This black&white photo shows Christ nailed to an old weather beaten cross but his face is hidden in silhouette. The Cross is bracketed with old dying Lombardy Popular trees backed by weather threatening clouds.

Family History as it relates to the old cemetery

Parents: Carl Dahlin and Grace Spaeth were married in the Assumption Church April 4, 1921. They moved into their newly built house at 146 Culbert St. in 1925. They had four children Dick in 1922, Gordon in 1924, Vivian in 1927 and Roger in 1937. Carl emigrated from Sweden in 1910. Growing up I knew he had some relatives in Sweden but to my knowledge none in the USA. Consequently, my family exposure was maternal and tied to the Spaeth Family. My Mother's paternal grandparents were both born in Germany.

John Spaeth Family Patriarch : John and his father came alone to Syracuse in 1852. The family name originally had the German spelling Spath or Spat with an umlaut over the "a" [See the attached book marker]; however, it was later anglicized to Spaeth. According to family legend John was studying to be priest and was headed for a Franciscan based seminary in Buffalo NY. However, he stopped off in Syracuse to visit family or friends and met Crescentia Muhlhauser. They married April 4, 1857 and had ten children

John worked for most of his adult life as the principal bookkeeper for the William C. Gere Company that had a large wholesale business on the Erie Canal. John owned a nice home on Carbon St. with a back lot that extended to the street below where he raised a variety of fruit trees and grapes. John also had an aviary with a wide variety of live birds. During the 1880's he also had a business on the Erie Canal selling live birds. His hobbies also included raising hybrid plants and making furniture. He also had a small library that included books in both German and English. In addition to hobbies and raising a large family he was very active in the Assumption Church where he reportedly served as treasurer an officer in the St Joseph's Society. During the Civil War he served in the Home Guard. John's son Frank A. Spaeth was a lifetime usher at Assumption Church.

Crescentia Muhlhauser Wife of John Spaeth Crescentia's obituary states that she was born in Germany and came to Syracuse when she was eight years old. The obituary further states that funeral services will be held at her 611 Carbon St, home and later at Assumption Church followed by burial at St. Joseph's Cemetery.

Crescentia Muhlhauser and husband John Spaeth

I have several copies of 4X6 inch index cards that Pat Markert used to record St. Joseph burials, that includes Crescentia and her parents. I assume the others are relatives. – Syracuse City Directories from 1862 to 1900 show William Muhlhauser and offspring owning a grocery store and Mathias Muhlhauser with a meat market. William and Mathias could be brothers. William was Crescentia's father.

My mother's sister Bernice [Spaeth] Rathun ,who was a nurse, told me an interesting story about Crescentia. The story came from her Aunt Frances Gamerdinger daughter of John and Crescentia. Frances stated that Crescentia's mother also named Crescentia was a midwife and helped deliver most of the "Northside" Germans born at the time.

St Joseph's Cemetery Childhood Recreational Source

All the kids who lived on Culbert Street used the cemetery as a source of recreation. Photos to support this are shown. In my case, growing up in the 1940's there was rarely any auto traffic; consequently, most of our play time was devoted to the street on top of the hill. Heavy brush and poison ivy generally limited our cemetery activities until the winter. However, most of us took advantage of the flowers growing wild there that we would give to our mothers for special occasions. My mother was particularly happy when I brought her a freshly picked bouquet of Sweet Peas or Lilacs.

My next-door neighbor, Bob Sabella, recently reminded me that neighborhood kids would periodically visit to the old Cross via the First North Street entrance. My niece Linda [Dahlin] Valette who attended Assumption School also mentioned visiting the Cross and picking flowers to drop off there.

The entrance to the cemetery was on First North St. A wide path with Lombardy Popular trees on both sides of the path lead to the large Crucifix [Cross] at the peak of the hill . Spaeth graves were adjacent to the Lombardy Popular trees. There was a black wrought iron fence about three feet tall at the First North Street Entrance .

St. Joseph's Cemetery Burial Records Sources Five sources follow:

Source #1 St Joseph's Cemetery, - German and Irish Burial- Lot Owners

Internet Document: Search- St Joseph's Cemetery, Pond Street-German Lot owners,. This multipage page document prepared by Norman Staub in 2003 gives credit to Pat Markert as the original handwritten source for this information. This can be a good starting place to find out if you have ancestors that may have been buried at the old St. Joseph Cemetery. The list is alphabetical and, in some cases, lists lot purchase dates. Staub's document can also be found on the German Immigrant Ancestors in Syracuse and Onondaga County NY, that is an excellent source for German ancestors in this area. Source #2 St Joseph's Cemetery- DEATH & BURIAL RECORDS Compiled by R."Pat" Markert *

-Pat Market's 203 page document is a terrific source for St Joseph's burial searches. The key element to Pat's work is that she assembles her data by sequential burial year. Further, she squeezes a great deal of information in tight handwritten form. Her lists start with the death date followed by internment date. She often lists kin and sometimes home. Her list shows age when person died and sometimes shows it by two methods. Most critical, Pat also identifies where the grave was removed to Assumption Cemetery. Finally, her entries from 1911 to 1953, shows what may be the old St Joseph lot location. For example, a family member, Joseph Spaeth who was buried in 1936 shows a data entry of 1-149, whereas, a 1934 burial shows 2-802 --Pat's notes indicate there were 6567 removals of which 6348 she researched. My rough counting of Pat's records showed at least 216 persons were moved to Assumption and one to St. Agnes Cemetery. --A sample section from Page125 for year 1892 is below that highlights John Markert; his grave photo is above.

Source #3 Burial Records from Old St. Joseph's Cemetery * Bound Publication transcribed from field notes kept by the contractor that was responsible for removal and reburial . Only 509 persons were identified within the 6567 removed. This document may be of limited value because entry names are not alphabetical and are keyed to location in the old cemetery where the bodies were removed. Further, in only a few places the date of initial burial is listed. However, within the 509 names identified the reinterned burial box at Assumption Cemetery reburial site is highlighted. Details of the move with burial map, clips of field notes and comments follow.

Source #4 Internet Sites for grave locations Sites for both Assumption and St Joseph's from Findagrave .com. They can be searched by family name that provides birth and death date with family links. In some cases grave photos and background information are included. Information and photos can be added by family members or volunteers. Entries are arbitrary and only include some portion of gravesites. For example, both my parents [Carl and Grace Dahlin], buried at Assumption, do not show up on this internet site. I also randomly checked 10 St. Joseph's reburials and only four showed up. Findagrave.com is a for profit site owned and supported by Ancestry.com

Grave Removal 1965-1966

Background Herbert N Lozzot owner of the Lozzot Funeral Home had the primary responsibility, or contact, for the removal of St Joseph Cemetery graves. His selection for this project was likely influenced by his 1958 experience in the reinternment of graves from the old St Mary's Cemetery on Renwick Road to the existing St Mary's cemetery in Dewitt. Burial records for both of these projects are on file at the Onondaga Co. Public Library Local History /Genealogy Center. The records for the St Joseph effort are in four parts. They include field notes, Supervisors hand written records enhancing the field notes, Supervisors notes typed and the final typed and bound record. This final document includes a forward that states "According to donor, son of Supervisor on this job, only 509 burials were identified out of 6567 removed ". A condensation of these four records focusing on family member Joseph Spaeth, who died in 1936, are shown on page 11.

Reinternment Speculation I have no first hand accounting of the complete reburial process but based upon review of the burial records and personal photos I took in 1966 consider the following:

1.The last burial was in 1953.2.Thirty one nuns were reinterned to Assumption Cemetery in 1958 . They are in a small common area with an appropriate testimonial headstone. Their St Joseph's headstones are not with them.3. Site Preparation and removal of preselected graves. Likely began in spring 1966. This required securing the area with fences, bringing in equipment and reinterring selected graves and headstones, paid for by family members, to Assumption Cemetery. Attached photos taken in summer 1966 show perimeter fence, no evidence of gravestones and backhoe in place.... 4.Primary removal of the 6567 graves The formal bound publication Burials Removed from the old St Joseph's Cemetery states that removals were supervised and recorded between November 1965 and October 1966. Field data with work dates and survey information indicate that the first placement of remains in boxes began 11/10/65 in the lower northwest corner[See map] Based upon the evidence suggested in the photos, the heavy- duty digging was performed by the backhoe using a small scoop with final work done by hand. In order to efficiently use the backhoe gravestones needed to be removed. Work was halted for the winter and continued in spring 1966. Field records show placement of remains in boxes began 5/7/66. And by 9/28/66 they had reached the top of the hill.... 5.Secondary activity summer 1966 A concurrent effort with a different grave identification numbering began 6/26/66 on the First North St. side [See Map]. This activity included the reburial of Joseph Spaeth who is referenced above. Field records show the last removal on 11/14/66. However, the published record shows work complete on October 29, 1966

Reflections

Site Reworking for Commercial Use In order accommodate the new commercial real-estate a major portion of Pond Street Hill needed to be removed. Much of this material was used to fill the low spot at the bottom of the hill that now occupies Vinette Towers. To get a perspective how the land was changed, I am including two photos. To understand these photos one needs to stand in the open area between the Tops Supermarket's high retaining wall and the Vinnette Towers below. Looking toward the west you will see Delong Ave above. Following the Delong landscape north you will see and old windowless building [garage?] that is the last backyard building on the street. I am including a 1930 photo of the old Cross and a photo taken in winter 2017. The old building is in both pictures. Comparing the two photos you will note that the old building is slightly below the elevation of the old cross in the 1930 photo; whereas, in the 2017 photo the same building is considerable higher.

What Happened to the old Crucifix? Long time Syracuse Post Standard Columnist, Dick Case, made the same inquiry in a June 12, 2012 article. In this article Dick mentioned that he checked with Assumption Cemetery and the Syracuse Catholic Diocese that ended without any conclusion. Dick finished his column with an open mystery. ----- During April 2017 I contacted Dick Case by email asking if he had any follow up to his article. In my email, I sent him a cropping of my brother Dick's 1940 photo. I pointed out that the metal casting of Christ looked pretty good in 1940 and that I thought because of its religious connection and value the casting could have been refurbished, attached to a new wooden cross and reinstalled somewhere. ----- Dick responded that he recalled a phone call at the time that the crucifix may be in a cemetery in the Clayton area of northern New York . – I sent an email to the Clayton NY town clerk with Dick's article and pictures of the old crucifix. The clerk followed up with full court press to key contacts in the area. She did get a response from St. Mary's Clayton indicating their church and the Catholic Churches in Cape Vincent and Alex Bay did not recognize it; but the hunt would continue. Independent of outcome, I still like to think that the old St Joseph's Cemetery icon still exists somewhere.

Final Commentary When my brother died the priest at his gravesite stated something like the following: "When you die, you die three times. First, when you exhale your last breath of air; second, when you are lowered into the ground and finally when a person says your name for the last time."

My great grandfather was buried at St Joseph's Cemetery in 1894. I never met him. I cannot view is tombstone. But I can still call out his name JOHN SPAETH!

Frank [Francis] Markert and Anna Schmuckmeier Family

Assumption church records show that Francis Markert son of Michael Markert and Margaret Schmidt [later Smith] married Anna Schmuckenmeyer [later Schmuckmeier] daughter of John Schmuckenmeyer and Anna Stiefberger on June 18, 1872. Assumption records show Anna's parents John and Anna were married June 14, 1849. Records indicate Frank's parents, like his wife's, were also from Bavaria and they both were buried in St. Joseph's Cemetery.

Frank worked as a cartman; that is, a person who drove a team of horses that pulled a cart, for most of his adult life. Family folklore was that he delivered most of the bricks used to build Assumption Church

My grandmother Matilda Seraphina Markert was born 6/30/1873. Apparently she had a brother Theodor born in 1883 and died as an infant. Two sisters followed Bertha 11/12/1880 and Eleanor 2/21/1885 cx. During their early marriage years Frank and Anna lived at 32, 38 and 337 Alvord St. About 1900 they moved in to 739 N. Alvord St. Records on file at the City Court House suggest they took a mortgage on the property. The 1892 City directory shows Frank's brother Michael and grandmother Schmuckmeier living there.

1894 Time of Joy –Time of Sorrow My grandparents Frank a Spaeth and Matilda Market were married in Assumption Church June 5, 1894. Frank's brother Joseph was best man and Maria Markert, Anna's sister, was bridesmaid. ---Frank's father John Spaeth suffered from cancer and died on June 25 1894. Anna was pregnant at the time and shortly afterward her husband Frank was involved with a serious accident. Apparently he was delivering a piano and while trying to move it alone suffered internal injuries. He died 8/26/1894 at age 43 leaving a pregnant widow. Frank Markert Junior was born 10/17/1894.---My grandparents first child Frank J Spaeth was born 11/12/95. Because of the closeness in age and the Spaeth's lived nearby both Franks were childhood playmates.

Anna Market lived with her daughter Bertha [Markert] Fredericks in her final years. William Frederick had a successful florist business in Schenectady that is still in business. A family tree of the Michael Markert/Margaret Smith family along with family trees of the three Markert sisters is in the Appendix. City directories highlighting the Markerts and pertinent Assumption Church records are also shown.

Matilda Seraphina Markert ---- Early Years

According to my mother, her mother Matilda [Markert] Spaeth ,born June 30,1873,was very religious and at one point planned to be a nun. My mother's youngest sister Bernice [Spaeth] had a statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary in her Fairmount home, about 18 inches high, like the one shown. Bernice said it was her mothers and that Matilda was given it for some special recognition at Assumption school. The whereabouts of this statue are unknown. ---By age 18 her religious ambitions must have waned as evident in her attendance at the February 15, 15 ,1892 Masquerade Ball shown below. She married Frank Spaeth June 5,1894. Assumption Church Record is below.

Bertha [Markert] Frederick Moved to Schenectady with her husband William. It is unlikely that I ever met her. My family knew her as Aunt Bert.--- Eleanor [Markert] Dittmann – My mother referred to her as Aunt Oll ; however, my recollections of her are vague. Her husband John Dittmann, handled a lot of the Spaeth Family Insurance business. John also signed as a witness for my father, Carl Dahlin's citizenship papers . Her grandson John Dittmann graduated from Smith Tech with me in 1955 ---Frank C Markert Jr. [No Photo] The 1900 census shows him living with his mother 739 N.Alvord; whereas, the 1910 Census below shows him with, Frank & Matilda Spaeth at 733 North Alvord St. His WWI Draft Registration shows him at age 22 married and working as a machinist at Oberdorfer Brass Co. ,

Markert Family Mysteries-

Growing up and through adulthood I had the understanding that three key, Syracuse based, Markerts had direct ties to my grandmother Matilda [Markert] Spaeth. However, recently through some research regarding the old St Joseph's Cemetery and in particular a family tree provided to me by the Onondaga Co. Public Library Local History/Genealogy center, I have determined this probably is not true. I have since found that there are at least two local Markert families. Two very condensed family trees are below. The three icons I referred to include: Radio personality Phil Markert of "Markert in the Morning", a near priceless stained glass window at Assumption church that reads " In Memory of Charles J. Markert and Family", and genealogist Pat Markert . It appears that these three icons tie to Henry[Heinrich] Market and not Michael Markert whose son was Frank Markert father of my maternal grandmother Matilda [Markert] Spaeth

Rose Mary P. "Pat" Markert

September 29, 2008

Rose Mary P. "Pat" Markert, 90, of Syracuse, passed away Monday, September 29, 2008. She was a lifetime resident of Syracuse and a graduate of Assumption High School and Syracuse Normal School. During World War II, Miss Markert served with the Air Force as a radio troubleshooter with the rank of sergeant. She was an engineering writer at General Electric Heavy Military Department for 27 years. After retirement she was a volunteer with the OHA (Onondaga Historical Association) and also a genealogist.

Survived by her sister, Mrs. Lee Donohue of Rochester, NY; two sisters-in-law, Ann and Amber Markert; numerous neices and nephews.

Funeral services are 11:30 a.m. FRIDAY at Keegan-Osbelt-Knight Funeral Home and noon at Assumption Church. Burial in Assumption Cemetery. Visitation is 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. Friday at the funeral home.

The family wishes to thank all the staff and residents at Greenpoint Senior Living Community for all the kindness and concern that they showed Aunt Pat during her stay.

Crescentia [Muhlhauser] Spaeth --Family Lineage Puzzle

Spaeth family recollections about Crescentia ,wife of John Spaeth, is that she came to Syracuse from Germany as a very young girl. Further, she was an only child and her father was named William and her mother, like herself, was named for Saint Crescentia. Her 1923 obituary, below, states she was born in Germany in 1840 and came to Syracuse when she was eight years old. This 1840 birth date is consistent with her St. Joseph Cemetery burial record. However when reviewing various records associated with the Muhlhauser family connections become murky. What is known that is that her suggested parents William and Crescentia were married at least twice. For example, Assumption Church records show that William married Crescentia, widow of Renoit Propshle. October 21, 1849. Further, William's wife Crescentia died in 1865 and he married Josephine Schonmetzler in 1866. A Mathias Muhlhauser and his offspring also show up consistently who may have been a brother or close relative of William. One example that supports this thesis is an 1853 baptism of Mathias and his wife's son where a William Mulhauser is the godfather.

Gemütlichkeit and the Schmuckmeier Brothers European Hotel

Anyone with German ancestors will enjoy reading “German-Americans in Onondaga County” by Martin S.Auer ¹. In this delightful little book Auer provides insight on the early Germans that settled in Onondaga County. More interestingly, he focuses on the German spirit of gemütlichkeit that is difficult to translate into English. Loosely, the term encompasses geniality, friendliness and the ability to enjoy life. However, Auser underscores this concept by contrasting the German approach to the Sabbath as a day of rest with the more traditional American response. Many puritanical Christians spent Sunday’s in silence and solemnity; whereas, German’s often followed Sunday worship with friendship, music and a little liquid refreshment.

Before explaining the Schmuckmier brothers, I need to introduce the players. My maternal great-grandfather Frank Markert married Anna Schmuckmeier at Assumption church June 18, 1872. Rev..Fidelis Dehm officiated. .Frank’s brother Charles and Anna’s sister Maria were witnesses. Charles Markert married Maria Schmuckmeier November 24, 1874 ;Rev. Fedelis Dehm officiated . Anna and Maria’s younger brothers, John E and Frank W. Schmuckmeier operated a saloon at 227 North Salina St. As evidenced in the 1885-1886 Syracuse City Directory they listed their business as the “ Schmuckmeier Brothers European Hotel” One can easily understand this as a source for gemütlichkeit.

Points of interest: John and Anna Schmuckmeier were from Bavaria. They were both buried in St Joseph Cemetery; however Anna who died in 1909 was one of the 509 burials identified. She is in box 201 at the Assumption site.-- The 1880 Census shows John and Anna living at 9 Douglas with son John ,age 21, working at a saloon When John senior died in 1886 they were at the same location. However, by 1900 the Syracuse City Directory shows Anna living with her daughter Anna [Schmuckmeier] Markert at 739 N. Alvord St. Anna lived in that location until her death. City directories from 1865 to 1900 highlighting Schmuckmeier are in the Appendix. They show both John and Frank active in the saloon business.

Grave markers for Frank& John Schmuckmeier at Assumption Cemetery and the Margaret [Schmuckmeier] Weaver Obituary

WEAVER, MARGARETH SCHMUCKMEIER - in this city, on the 5th inst., Margareth Schmuckmeier Weaver, aged 44 years. Besides her husband, Gottfried, she is survived by three daughters, Margareth, Marie and Genevieve Weaver; one son, Joseph Weaver; by two sisters, Mrs. Anna Markert and Mrs. Charles Markert; two brothers, John and Frank Schmuckmeier. Deceased was a member of Branch 16, L. C. B. A. Funeral will be held from her late home, 104 Herbert street, Friday at 8:30 a. m. and at Church of Assumption at 9 a. m. Members and friends invited. Burial in Assumption Cemetery.

John Spaeth- Family Patriarch

John Spaeth, age 17, and his father John Spaeth Senior, age 59, emigrated to the USA in 1852. This date can be confirmed from John Sr. death certificate and the fact that John rode in the July 20, 1892 Pioneer German's Association parade. He rode the wagon with the 1852 banner. Their home in Germany was in the little village of Scheer, located on the Danube river, in the then, separate state, of Württemberg. In 1951 Germany combined two states into Baden-Württemberg -- This state in southern Germany is in the large forested mountain range known as the Black Forest---Family folklore indicated that John was an only child and had completed two years of seminary work and was headed to Buffalo to become a priest. Finally, John Sr. was a person of prominence in his community. None of this has been confirmed but supporting information follows. A Franciscan based Buffalo church, at the time, was recruiting young men to become priests to help control unruly German male youths. John ended up working as a bookkeeper for most of his adult life that would have required previous formal education. Germany was awash with military revolutions at the time so conscription was a real issue. John Sr. had a substantial home that was evident by a photograph proudly displayed in the Spaeth home on Pond Lane. --However, the only child thesis has proven to be faulty because records indicate that John was one of eleven children.* The 1855 Syracuse Census below shows John and his father living with John's older sister Franzeska [Spaeth] Schmid in Syracuse. The 1855 City Directory shows Franzeska's husband Adolph Schmid, shoemaker, home as 346 Lodi. The directory also shows John Spath, shoemaker, 346 Lodi. Assumption church records, below, show Adolph a witness for John's wedding and baptism sponsor for John and Crescentia's first child.

The Spaeth Family and the Candle Business

When approaching downtown Syracuse N.Y. on US Route 81 from the north you will see an old smoke stack with a large candlestick painted on it . This Syracuse landmark is the former site of the old Will & Baumer Candle Company built in 1912. According to previous Syracuse newspapers, Syracuse was once the candle capital of America and Will and Baumer was one of the largest individual candle businesses in the world.¹

Anton Will credited for starting the candle business in Syracuse came from Wurttemberg Germany in 1855 . He and his wife Rosina baptized their son Louis at the German-Catholic Church of the Assumption December 20,1857 . Louis Will would later serve as Syracuse Mayor 1914-1915 . Anton who was trained as a candle maker soon found out that there were no candle factories in the US at the time; further, religious candles had to be imported. To support his family, he initially worked as a carpenter building wooden vats for the Syracuse salt industry. However, working with his wife he parlayed his knowledge of candle making into a very profitable business.

Anton [Anthony] Will- Troubled Man By 1866 Will was a successful businessman and highly regarded by the German -American community. He was in his early 30's and, according to newspapers; he was convinced his wife was seeing another man. During the end of March he asked his physician, Dr. Proehler, what poison would destroy life with the least pain and was told morphine was best. -----Later with Proehler at his home. Will announced: "Doctor my life is ended, I have taken poison". The Doctor was arrested, but charges including he knew that Will intended to use morphine were dropped.²

John Spaeth and Anthony Will According to Spaeth Family folklore Will was a cousin of John Spaeth, and John helped Will come to this country. Furthermore, Will started his business in the Spaeth home that entailed making decorative wax inlays for expensive leather book covers. The 1855 census shows John and his father living with John's older sister Franzeska [Spaeth] Schmid on Lodi St. More important, Anthony Will served as a witness to John Spaeth's April 27, 1857 wedding to Crescentia Muhlhauer. Further, John Spaeth was a sponsor to the baptism of Anthony and Rosina Will's two children: Louis born November 13, 1857 and Emma born October 2, 1860.

The Spaeth's and the Will & Baumer Candle Company. After Will's suicide his widow Rosina continued the family business, She later married Christian Eckerman and her oldest son Louis Will took over the Eckerman & Will firm in 1875. Their main competitor at the time was Francis Baumer* who also was the organist at Assumption Church. The two competitors merged in 1896 and Louis Will was chosen president of Will & Baumer . John Spaeth had to have known Baumer well because John was understood to be the church treasurer for many years. John worked as a bookkeeper for most of his adult life, which today, would be understood to be an accountant.*

The 1880 Census shows John's oldest son John Jr. age 19 working as a wax worker that could have been with either Will or with Francis Baumer. However John Jr. died August 3, 1880 leaving his younger brother Frank A. Spaeth to continue in the candle making business. The 1889 Syracuse Directory shows Frank, then age 19 , living with his parents at 611 Carbon St working as a wax candelmaker. Frank married Matilda Markert in 1894 and moved to 733 N. Alvord St. The Will & Baumer factory was at 811 N. Alvord at that time. Records also show that Frank's children worked in the candle business.

The Essex Candle Company

It is a real irony that Syracuse NY once known as the “Candle Making Capital of the USA”, and some say the world, has a living testimony of the industry in Essex Maryland. This testimony located in the Essex-Middle River Heritage Museum includes, the working content of an old handmade candle business. This business known as the Essex Candle Company was owned and operated by Frank Joseph Spaeth , grandson of John Spaeth . Frank J. Spaeth obtained a registered trademark for Essex Candle Co. on May 30,1930. He and his wife Hazel [Stivers] Spaeth ran the business for more than 40 years until Frank’s death in 1969. In 1975, Hazel Spaeth donated the entire candle making operation to the Heritage Society of Essex and Middle River. This operation is currently a focal point of their museum and includes not only a permanent display room but mock candle making demonstrations and hands- on programs for school children.

Frank J.Spaeth was born in Syracuse NY November 12,1895. Family members always referred to him by his nickname “Bude”. His nickname was understood to be firmed as a baseball player that was a common practice at the time. The 1910 Census shows “Bude” at age 14 working as an apprentice at a candle factory. One can assume this to be Will&Baumer because this is where he met his future wife Hazel Stivers.. Family stories indicated that he was promoted to foreman at Will & Baumer and subsequently assigned to manage a satellite plant in New Jersey. Details of this transition, that link to the Essex Candle Co., are picked up in a 1987 Essex newspaper article.³ This article includes direct input from Mrs. Spaeth who confirmed that Frank went to Newark NJ to start a candle company. Further, in 1926 Frank came to Baltimore to work for the A.Cross Candle Company. The newspaper stated that Hazel came to Baltimore that year and that is when they were married. Further that at the time of publication Mrs. Spaeth was living as a widow in the same house she and her husband purchased 40 years earlier.

Although the newspaper states that the business was started in1933, an existing letter suggests that it may have been in operation by 1928. This conclusion is based upon a letter sent to Frank’s younger brother George, issued on company letterhead, dated August 16, 1928. George also worked for Will&Baumer and records show he worked for Essex Candle between 1931 and 1934. Most important, the newspaper article introduces Fred Grupp who started working for the Spaeth’s when he was sixteen. This effort was afterschool and weekends. After Grupp married and was working full time at Bethlehem Steel he still continued working for the Spaeth’s on a part time basis. Grupp reported he worked for the Spaeth’s for almost 40 years and they treated him like a son.

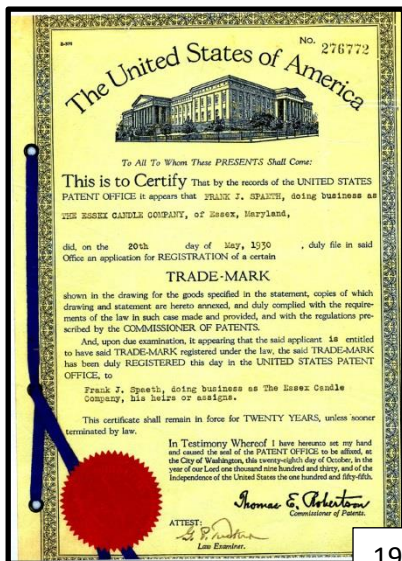

Details about the company with input from both Grupp and Hazel Spaeth include the following: It was a family-owned wholesale business that manufactured handmade dripless candles know as tapers. These tapered candles were available in sizes 6 to 24 inches and in several colors. Essex Candle’s clientele included department stores and hotels in Maryland, Virginia and Washington D.C. Although there were many Catholic churches in Baltimore, none were customers because the candles did not have sufficient beeswax to meet Catholic Church criteria. However, Essex Candle did sell to St.John’s Lutheran Church. The article also included considerable input by Grupp on the manufacturing process

Legacy Frank and Hazel Spaeth did not have any children but each year Spaeth family members looked forward at Christmas time to receiving collectable glass- framed Essex Candle Company calendars for the upcoming year. Some Spaeth family members’ still have them on display at their homes. The Essex Middle –River Heritage Museum also has some of these calendars. Most important, the old Essex Candle Co. exhibit at the museum will serve as a testimony for future generations ---- Frank and Hazel are buried in Syracuse’s Assumption Cemetery alongside Frank’s relatives

More About John Spaeth

John Spaeth Birdman John worked for many years as a bookkeeper for William C Gear who had a wholesale business on the Erie Canal. This business at 43 & 45 East Water St. was about ½ blocks west of the present Erie Canal Museum. During the years 1879 through 1884 he had a business selling live birds from all over the world.[Entries from the 1880-1881 Syracuse City Directory are shown] Because his address was the same as Gear it can be assumed that he had some working arrangement with Gear. Family member indicated that he had an aviary in his home. John had at least three displays with stuffed birds. The attached photo of Snowbirds is one of these displays that was in the Lee Carey home in North Tonawanda NY

.Kitchen Table Autopsy According to John's daughter Frances [Spaeth] Gamerdinger, John suffered from stomach cancer in the last of his life. His son Joe carried him within their home, during his final days. John had had a personal German friend who was chief surgeon at St. Joseph's Hospital. Frances said when her father died the surgeon performed an autopsy on top of the 611 Carbon St. home kitchen table. Frances claimed she saw the tumor that was removed and it was the size of a grapefruit. This perhaps apocryphal story was told to me by my Aunt Bernice [Spaeth] Rathbun. Bernice told me her Aunt Frances Gamerdinger told her this story. Roger Dahlin May, 2017

Spaeth, Blind Smoke Victim, Succumbs

Taken From Blazing Home; Sister, 60, Recov- ering in Hospital

Joseph A. Spaeth, 69 years of age and blind, died at 8 o'clock Friday night in St. Joseph Hospital. Spaeth, who was rescued from a blazing bedroom in his second-floor apartment at 611 Carbon Street early Tuesday morning, was carried out of the burning structure by Fireman Ray Worth of Engine Company 2 and taken to the hospital in an ambulance.

SPAETH—Entered into rest, October 30, 1936. JOSEPH A. SPAETH. He is survived by his sister, Mrs. Frances Gomerding; two brothers, Frank and George Spaeth. Services from the funeral home of John Gang & Son, 200 North Salina at Catawba Street, Monday at 2:30 A.M., and Church of Assumption at 9 A.M. Burial in St. Joseph Cemetery.

Patrolman Daniel Simons, who discovered the fire while cruising in a patrol car, telephoned the alarm, returned and broke down the front door of the house. Mrs. Charles Gomerding, 60, sister of Spaeth, who was nearly overcome by the smoke, was taken by Simons to a neighbors' home and then he learned that Spaeth still was in the house. Simons was driven from his second attempt to enter the house and Fireman Worth crawled along the floor, finally reaching the second floor. In a smoke-filled room and sitting on the edge of a bed, Spaeth was found.

Mrs. Gomerding was found in the hospital of smoke.

WEDDING HALTED AS BRIDEGROOM DEVELOPS POLIO

Francis Carey in Hospital on What Was to Have Been Nuptial Day.

Yesterday was to have been the happiest day in the life of Francis J. Carey. It was to have been his wedding day.

But infantile paralysis intervened, and instead of the tunes of the wedding march, the muffled footsteps of doctors and nurses came to him as he lay in a critical condition in the City Hospital.

While his life hangs in the balance, his bride-to-be, Miss A. Claire Spaeth, barred by the hospital quarantine from seeing him, prays for his speedy recovery.

"Mike," as he is known to friends, came to Syracuse several years ago from his home town, Upper Jay, N. Y.

Last Saturday he told friends of a slight illness, but continued with his plans for the wedding. Monday morning the infantile paralysis symptoms developed. He was unable to move. Physicians were summoned to his rooms and diagnosed the case. "Mike" was ordered immediately to the hospital.

Dear Till;

Just to let you know that your mother is pretty sick and I thought maybe you would want to drive home that way and see her.

Bert phoned us Christmas night that she had been sick for a few days and last night I called up and she said the doctor said she was filled up but that he would do the best he could. Just what that means I do not know. Oll thinks she is going down to-morrow. She doesn't eat anything to speak of etc. Bert says she looks real bad.

Hope you had a pleasant Christmas as well as the rest of the family. Grace says you expected to come back this week.

Yours,

This letter was written regarding the serious health of Anna Schmuckmeier Markert mother of the three Markert sisters: , Matilda ,known as "Till" married to Frank A Spaeth , Eleanor known as "Oll" married to John A Dittmann , and Bertha known as "Bert" married to William Frederick . Grace mentioned in the letter is Grace [Spaeth] Dahlin married to Carl Dahlin . Grace's mother was Matilda and her Grandmother was Anna Schmuckmeier]

At the time of this letter Anna was living with her daughter Bertha [Markert] Frederick in Schenectady. Bertha's husband William J. Frederick owned and operated a very successful greenhouse/florist business at this period

The author of the letter John Dittmann was the husband of Eleanor Markert --
